

Dear Guest,

We are pleased to invite you to the performance Kotikeye by artist Luca Trevisani, taking place on November 27 at 7 PM at NMMU Oktogon, Ilica 5, Zagreb.

The event is curated and organized by Blu – Breeding and Learning Unit, Genoa, and supported by the Italian Council (Directorate-General for Contemporary Creativity, Italian Ministry of Culture). It is hosted by the National Museum of Modern Art, within its ongoing program of site-specific projects presented at the NMMU Oktogon.

The NMMU Oktogon is an exhibition space managed by the National Museum of Modern Art, located in the city block of the same name.

Built in the heart of the central city zone at the turn of the 19th and 20th centuries in the Neo-Baroque style, it originally housed the main office and branch of the 1st Municipal Bank.

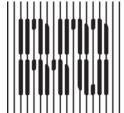

After being abandoned for five years, the 3,000 m² space was allocated to the National Museum of Modern Art in 2024 to serve as an exhibition venue. Since November 2024, the NMMU Oktogon has been presenting site-specific projects, and architectural design is currently underway to transform it into an exhibition space meeting international standards for museum presentation.

Please find attached a PDF with further information about the project.

With kind regards,

Blu – Breeding and Learning Unit
